MO3: Final Project Website: Topic Selection and Site Outline

What is my website going to have on it? I plan on building a website to host my projects and use it kind of like a portfolio. I want to use it to showcase what I've learned in the class along with being able to showcase some of the other projects I've completed or been a part of.

So far, I don't think I really have a target audience other than, just people who may be interested in what I know and or what I'm capable of.

Here is a layout of what I'm thinking about putting on my website.

```
                            ┌─────────────┐
                            │    Home     │
                            └─────────────┘
                                   │
        ┌──────────────┬───────────┼───────────┬──────────────┐
